Snowmobilers Take Over

Perfect winter weather brought snowmobilers from all sections of the country to take part in the 2nd Annual New Year's Weekend Snowmobile Rally, Jan. 2, 3, and 4.

Racers, spectators, campers, and vacation trailers jammed the Grayling region for the three-day event.

Thirty snowmobiles, with fifty persons aboard, took off January 2nd for the Snowfari on the Skyline Trail. The group left Grayling at 10:30 a.m. and took the lunch stop at the Skyline Ski Club, returning to Grayling at 3:30 p.m.

On Saturday, Jan. 3rd, 76 snowmobiles took part in the 50-mile Cross Country Race on the Lovells Trail. The 50-mile race was run under ideal conditions and ran through the forests and hills of the northern range. It was a race of stamina and endurance for both men and machines and of the 76 snowmobiles starting the race, only 37 finished the grueling 50-mile course.

Sunday's Oval Track Races drew 207 entries in all classes and the crowd was estimated at 5,000. Both parking facilities, spectators and racers — were filled to capacity and the crowds viewed fourteen exciting races for three hours on Sunday afternoon.

D. L. Riddle, President of the Grayling Trailmaster Snowmobile Club, advised that snowmobile planning has already started for the 1971 New Year's Weekend Snowmobile Rally, and that the Club was pleased with the three-day event this past weekend.

Earl H. Longworth, Manager of the Regional Chamber of Commerce, stated that snowmobiling activity has sparked the winter economy of all the Northland, and the crowds this past weekend were reminiscent of the summer 4th of July activity.

The next scheduled activity for the Trailmaster Snowmobile Club will be an all-day snowfari on January 24th.

Robert Ward of Lansing was the winner of the snowmobile given away over the weekend.

4-H Teens Organize

On Nov. 13, a small but enthusiastic group of over-thirteen-year olds, met at the Grayling City Hall, and organized a 4-H Teen group.

Officers elected were: President, Mary Liz McNamee; Vice President, Bridget Hoffman; Secretary and Reporter, Becky Swinney; Treasurer, Lark Woolley; Song and Recreation Leader, Georgia Bilger.

Meetings will be held regularly at 7:30, on the second Thursday of every other month, starting Jan. 8, 1970. This first meeting will be in the meeting room at the Court House.

All young people thirteen years of age and over, who have a genuine concern for leadership and participation within their community, are more than welcome to attend this meeting.

Come and have 4-H FUN. Mrs. Earl Burns Crawford County 4-H Chairman.

NOTICES

The Kodiak Flying Club will meet on Thursday, Jan. 8 at 7 p.m. at City Hall.

Mercy Hospital Auxiliary meeting, Thursday, Jan. 8, at 1:30.

Will the lady who purchased the Michigan license plate No. BNN-568 please stop in at the Secretary of State office.

Snowmobilers Attention

It has again become apparent that snowmobilers have been using the golf course to run their machines. The Board of Directors of the Country Club advises that the course is private property and off-limits to snowmobilers, as excessive damage can be done to the greens and course itself. They ask that persons using the course for snowmobiling, please stop.

If the request is not complied with, any trespassers will be prosecuted. Hal Walker Board President

Patricia Christian, Miss Grayling 1970, is shown as she prepared to start Sunday's Oval Track Races.

Open Meeting Held Monday to Air County Government Actions

Approximately forty citizens attended the special meeting called by the County Board of Supervisors on Monday evening in the new county building, along with members of the road Commission and John M. Keir, Engineer.

The meeting was set up to air some of the problems concerning road conditions throughout the county, plus other portions of the county government, following two meetings held in Frederick Town Hall by a group of citizens concerned with the problems.

Mr. Keir explained the functions of the Road Commission, as to the receiving and dispersing of monies received from the state, and the guide lines the commission has to follow.

There are two distinct designations of roads, primary and secondary, the primary roads have priority in new construction and maintenance, Keir said. Bernard Fowler, Supervisor for Grayling Township, explained how his township operates when new construction is needed. Property owners and the township share 25% each with the commission matching 50%.

William Laurie of Lovells brought up the question of the Military assisting in repairing roads following their encampments, as they use mostly secondary roads in the county.

Following a lengthy discussion on the road conditions throughout the county, the question was brought up as to why the County Board of Supervisors were electing at-large, instead of by designated districts.

The apportionment plan for redistricting the County was sent to the state in May, 1968, and was thought to be okayed.

Through a misunderstanding, when it came time for the election, Leo Lovely, County Clerk, was advised by Bernie Apol, Director of State Election Commission, that the apportionment plan was not completed and the Supervisors would be run at-large, Lovely said.

At present, Bruce Benson, Crawford County Prosecutor has entered a petition in the Court of Appeals for reapportionment in the county.

Benson stated, that if the Court rules favorably, nothing could be done until the election this fall.

All the members of the present Board of Supervisors' terms expire on Jan. 1, 1971.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFIT INCREASE

Social Security beneficiaries need not apply for the 15 percent benefit increase just signed into law by President Nixon.

"Every one of the 25 million men, women and children now on the benefit rolls will receive the increase automatically," Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, said today.

The first regular check in the new amount, Commissioner Ball said, "Will arrive April 3, the usual day for delivery of benefits."

Chamber Needs Promotional Material

On December 15th the Grayling Chamber of Commerce mailed a general mailing to all members in the vacation, resort, and tourist oriented businesses to supply the office by January 10 with any promotional material they might want distributed at the Cincinnati Travel Show January 17-25. The Chamber office advised today that there has been very little response to this request.

Chum Longworth stated that a considerable amount of money is budgeted by the Chamber Board to participate with the E.M.T.A. in its Community Participation Program with 1970 winter Travel Shows. The E.M.T.A. has selected five Travel Shows in these areas that statistics have shown produce the most "people business" for our varied recreational activities. The E.M.T.A. allows each community that participates in their show program to have a four foot section for display of the region and for counter space to distribute area material.

Longworth stated that the "Crawford County Visitors Guide" for 1970 will be ready for distribution at all Travel Shows, but that other promotional materials of the area are needed.

The Chamber also advised that mail is now being received for accommodations next summer especially for the Lake Margrethe area, and that the new 1970 guide will list two resorts on Lake Margrethe that have advised the Chamber that they will cater to summer guests.

Longworth pointed out that this means that when these resorts are filled that those vacationers wanting Lake accommodations will have to be referred to the Higgins, Houghton, and Otsego Lake areas, or the Chamber will have to attempt to sell the individuals on the excellent accommodations available elsewhere in Crawford County. In the same conversation, it was stated that if tourists or vacationers do not stay in the Crawford County region and move on the areas where specific accommodations are available, then it is all the businesses of the area that suffers an economic loss.

Fun and Friendship

These were the keynotes at the annual Senior Citizens Christmas Party, sponsored by the Grayling Women's Club, and held at their gayly decorated club rooms, Dec. 11.

Much reminiscing of old friends, forming of new ones, and shipwrecking could be heard through the din of fifty-one voices.

Christmas carols were sung to piano accompaniment, provided by Mrs. Arthur Feldhaus.

Games were in order and each guest received a memento of the occasion. Lunch, in keeping with the Holiday Season, topped the afternoon festivities.

Transportation was provided for seven guests. Thirty-two plates of goodies were arranged and delivered to those who were not able to attend.

Co-chairman, Theresa Johnson and Violet Burns, are very grateful to the many other club members whose time and effort contributed to the success of the party.

Date for Parks And Recreation Seminar Set

By William Bosserman County Extension Director

Gearing up for local recreation will be the subject of a park and recreation Seminar Tuesday, Jan. 27, to be held at the Chief Shoppenagon in Grayling. The meeting is from 10:00 a.m. till 3:30 p.m. People are expected from all of northern Michigan.

Dr. Louis Twardzik, Chairman, Department of Parks and Recreation Resources, Michigan State University will be one of the discussion leaders.

Interest in parks was stimulated by the passage of the state $100 million recreation bond program. The seminar will cover more than just organizing for state funds, however. Roger R. Murray, Park Management Specialist, Michigan State University will discuss local government organizations for parks and recreation. John Hodge, District Extension Leader in resource development will discuss getting organized for recreation growth.

Other subjects to be covered include master plans for parks and recreation and methods of operation.

The meeting is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University, under the leadership of John Hodge, Petoskey.

Local people are now gearing up for better parks.

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners appointed a parks commission. A recreation authority has been formed for Higgins township and the Village of Roscommon with Delvin Weiland being elected president. They have submitted application for state recreation funds for a park in the Village.

The Roscommon County Board of Commissioners is studying the possibility of organizing a county parks commission. Most of the local townships have at least one park which they maintain. Oscoda and Ogemaw counties now have county park commissions.

Letters To The Editor

December 28, 1969
Crawford County Avalanche
Grayling, Mich.
Dear Editor:

We have no gripes to air, moving to Grayling has given us more time to notice many wonderful things, this is the balance sheet.

Disappointments well no hurt no, Divine Love everywhere, many beautiful friendships, respect and admiration for the young man about 17 years old at Harrison, who came to the rescue and changed the tire on my car, when offered money, said its a beautiful Sunday, nothing lady.

The dear nurse at Birmingham who came to the rescue and did not stop there, at a time of trouble has become a close friend.

Thank you, to the tourist, who said, this is a friendly shop, we did not get the feeling you were waiting to grab our money, and then made a check out for five dollars more than the purchase, and insisted on it being excepted.

And the Buick dealer on Telegraph Road in Bloomfield Twp. who put the young man on overtime pay and sent him out to change my snow tire when it was bitter cold, said it would take too long if he called the auto club, this young man refused extra money and said the overtime pay would be plenty, that he hoped if his mother got a flat tire at Christmas someone would do the same for her.

Last, let me say the dear children of Grayling who sang Christmas Carols so beautifully at our door last Tuesday night and when offered a reward, said we live to do this, our youth are wonderful.

Another time we had a lady stop on a day I was ill, this lady on returning to Detroit, wrote me a note to cheer me up, she was not a lady I knew, do we stop long enough to care?

We still wonder about the little toad at Wing Lake, we stopped and stroked his head, and he winked, do you suppose he knew something.

Sincerely Yours
Mildred Ziegler
Grayling, Mich.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

Is there life on other planets in other galaxies out there? This is a question we ask with increasing frequency these days. When God made our world, was it the only one He fashioned?

We may never know. The answer may lie far in the future. But it is an enticing subject to speculate about.

Many fascinating subjects are being discussed today—in church. If this surprises you, it only goes to show that you haven't been attending church lately. To keep in touch with this challenging world, start going not only to regular services but to some of the special discussions in your church.

Have A Mashed Potato

By Jim Fitzgerald

It was after I delivered the barstools to the junior high school that I began to fret about New Year's Eve.

"I hope those stools will be returned in time," I told my wife. "I hate to keep my friends standing. It is too far for them to fall."

"None of your friends are falling around here this year," she answered. "I got you a sleeve from the Automobile Club and I'm stocking up on mashed potatoes."

You probably read about AAA's campaign to make everyone "First a friend . . . then a host." This is the positive approach. No longer do you warn your guests that liquor and gasoline might mix into a bloody cocktail. This is no way to keep friends in a nation where the only people who don't drink are the only people who don't drive to go next door.

Instead, you meet Joe Boozer at the front door and hand him a bowl of mashed potatoes. He must eat them before he wades into the punch bowl because potatoes sponge up the liquor and keeps it out of the bloodstream, or something. "Eat 'em mashed and you won't get smashed," AAA says you should tell Joe.

AAA doesn't say what you should do if Joe smashes the mashed potatoes into your hair. Be grateful they weren't boiled, I guess.

My wife showed me the AAA sleeve. It's a plastic cover, shaped like a Christmas tree. Printed on it is a "blood-alcohol level chart" which shows how much liquor you should consume per hour per pounds you weigh. It also shows how you'll score on a breathalyzer test. When the host thinks it is time for Joe to stop boozing, AAA says, he should slip the sleeve over the bottle.

Actually, this doesn't seem fair to the other guests who haven't had as much to drink as Joe, or who are fatter. Next year, AAA should distribute a bigger sleeve; one that will fit over Joe's head.

Before I conclude by drawing a moral from all this AAA temporizing, you are probably dying to know how come I took my barstools to school . . .

Well, my 13-year-old Chrissie and her friend Cathy are still entertaining with guitar-vocal duets. They'll perform for anyone who'll listen and, if they get between you and the exit, you're going to be late for your next meal.

This day they really had a captive audience—the 6th grade. I didn't mind delivering them and their strings and their maxi-skirts. But it was a little much when Chrissie said they had to bring their own stools. Anyone who has seen TV knows that guitar players must sit in stools, not chairs, forgooshakes, Dad. And the school stools swivel, which would never do. It HAD to be my barstools or the entire show would be a terrible flop and it would be all my fault.

Later, Chrissie reported that the stools got a standing ovation.

And they were returned in time for New Year's Eve, which brings us back to drinking the mashed potato way. The moral is that it isn't worth it.

New Year's Eve is amateur night anyway. Professional boozers are well-advised to stay home for a change and count their blessings. Which would certainly include little girls on barstools that don't swivel.

Or, if you are so inclined, you don't have to eat any mashed potatoes to get into church. Pray one for me.

Jefferson Would Be Pleased

The author of the Declaration of Independence, Thomas Jefferson, in a letter to his 15-year-old nephew, wrote, "Let your gun be the constant companion of your walks." Drafting the Virginia Constitution in 1776, Jefferson also wrote: "No free man shall ever be debarred the use of arms." Possession of firearms is one of the most fundamental traditions and rights of U.S. citizens. It is so closely interwoven with personal liberty under the Constitution that attempts to impose confiscatory regulatory measures on citizen gun ownership, if successful, could weaken the very fiber of U.S. representative government. In the futile campaign to curb crime by penalizing the law-abiding, the authors of oppressive gun controls have shown an unacceptable lack of contact with reality.

There are vast regions of the nation, from coast to coast, where people still depend on guns as a tool in business, as well as an instrument of sport. A survey of farmers from the Gulf Coast to the far Pacific Northwest and back to Michigan found that 93 per cent of agriculturists own guns — usually 1 to 4 rifles, shotguns and handguns apiece. The guns are used to protect property, eliminate predatory or dangerous invaders, such as coyotes and rattlesnakes, and insure personal safety in areas where the forces of law are spread thinly.

The recent action of the U.S. Senate in approving the easing of regulations concerning sales of rifle and shotgun ammunition indicates a return to common sense in the matter of gun controls. Thomas Jefferson would be pleased.

COTTONWOOD, MINN., CURRENT: "There is a great furor about sex education! Schools, churches, and mail order advertising are all at it. Films, books, literature comes to our desk almost daily — from those who purport to be experts on this subject which our generation must have discovered. We are not sure how the human race was propagated before we came along and discovered sex — it may forever remain a mystery."

Medical Advice On Strep-Throat

Dr. Edward L. Quinn, Chairman of the Rheumatic Fever Control Committee of the Michigan Heart Association, today issued a reminder to parents and to physicians who care for children that the strep-throat season has arrived and that the quick and relatively inexpensive throat culture test should be administered to all children with a sore throat or who have been exposed to the disease.

"Few diseases can be cured as easily as strep, which is invariably susceptible to a full course of antibiotics," explained Dr. Quinn, who is the Director of the Department of Infectious Disease, Henry Ford Hospital, in Detroit. "Strep throat, or its counterpart, scarlet fever, are the only known causes of rheumatic fever, itself a difficult disease which can also damage the heart valves."

"There are a number of reasons, however, why the unnecessary use of antibiotics should be avoided," Dr. Quinn added. "This is why we advocate the throat culture. Most laboratories and health departments will culture a throat swab sample and return a verdict within a day or two."

"Another reason testing is so important is that when the presence of strep is properly diagnosed by culture, there is little danger that there will be inadequate or needless treatment."

Active rheumatic fever (RF), which used to be a very large killer of children, caused the deaths of eight last year, according to the records of the Michigan Department of Public Health. Rheumatic heart disease (RHD), however, caused the deaths of 710 persons, ranging in age from 15 to 90. The highest group of fatalities, 221, occurred among persons between 55 and 64 years of age.

RF was found to be a "significant cause of disability and death" by a two-year-long, $62,000, Michigan Heart Association financed study of both RF and RHD. It was co-sponsored by the School of Public Health of the University of Michigan and the Michigan Department of Public Health.

In the study, physicians reported they are seeing more than 2,500 new cases of RF a year. There were more than 5,000 children and adults with RF and RHD admitted to hospitals last year, and more than 400 operations to repair damaged heart valves due to RHD were performed. The Michigan Heart Association is a Michigan United Fund agency.

Language Arts Conducts Survey

Members of the Grayling High School Language Arts Department have been busy during the course of the year conducting special studies and surveys of interest to students, faculty, and community.

The language arts instructors of the Grayling and Frederic Elementary Schools have been evaluating textbooks, as well as writing a sequential course of studies for students in kindergarten through sixth grade.

At the Junior-Senior High School level, the members of the department have been conducting a survey of Michigan colleges in regard to the amount and type of grammar our graduates are expected to have when they apply for admission to an institute of higher learning.

Mrs. Evelyn Klein, corresponding secretary for the Language Arts Department, has contacted 82 colleges, all located in the State of Michigan, included in the survey are the following seven questions:

1) Should only traditional grammar be taught in our junior and senior high schools?

2) How many years of traditional grammar are needed by students entering your university or college?

3) If your department feels students should have had transformational grammar, at what grade level do you feel it should be introduced?

4) How many years of transformational grammar does your department feel a Freshman should have had before entering college?

5) Does your institution offer courses in both traditional and transformational grammar?

6) If only one kind of grammar is offered, will you please indicate which is being taught?

7) What suggestions do you have that may help us to improve the quality of the English grammar being used by students leaving our high school?

Thus far, forty colleges have responded to the questionnaire. These are: Adrian College, Albion College, Alpena Community College, Aquinas College, Calvin College, Central Michigan University, Cleary College, Concordia Lutheran College, Dearborn Community College, DeLima Jr. College, Eastern Michigan University, General Motors Institute, Grand Rapids Jr. College, Grand Rapids Reform Bible Institute, Grand Valley State College, Hillsdale College, Hope College, Interlochen College, Jackson Community College, Kalamazoo Valley Community College, Kellogg Community College, Kirtland Community College, Lake Superior State College, Madonna College, Marygrove College, Michigan State University, Mid-Michigan Community College, Monroe Community College, Montcalm Community College, Muskegon Community College, North Central Michigan College, Northwestern Michigan Community College, Oakland University, Olivet College, Orchard Lake College, Saginaw Valley State College, Siena Heights College, Suomi College, University of Michigan, and Wayne State University.

Results from the questionnaire will be compiled on January 30, 1970, when the Grayling schools have a day set aside for in-service training. The Michigan Council of Teachers of English has asked for a copy of the final results of the questionnaire.

Here's How I See It

by Lou Cramton

Following is a letter written to the Hoover children by Lou Cramton in regard to their concern in the pollution problem. The letter followed the article by Mr. Cramton in last week's issue, but because of limited space we were unable to print it — Editor.

12/26/69

Alison and Stacey Hoover
Wendell Hoover
Grayling, Michigan
Dear Alison and Stacey:
May I salute you for your awareness of one of the most threatening problems facing all of us today.

Man has learned how to control his environment to a large degree but has been slow to use his knowledge—partly because of the great expense involved and partly because of an apparent lack of feeling there was any great need "now".

But the need is there now and measures to keep our water and air clean are long overdue.

With all due respect to our mutual friend Senator Toeppe, one group of people that have been the slowest to take necessary action has been our legislature in Lansing. Apparently unaware of how critical the situation was, they procrastinated and piddled away valuable time without taking constructive action until finally pushed into passing the buck to the people in a bond vote—anywhere from two to four years late.

They waited so long for that it was no surprise to most of us that the matching funds expected from the federal government were not readily available—having been poured out to states taking more aggressive action against pollution much earlier than Michigan.

A side from just living healthy lives, you, your folks and I and a lot more of us know one of Michigan's greatest assets is its North Country's attraction to tourists, fishermen, hunters and folks just looking for a pleasant place to enjoy themselves away from the pressures and dirt of city life. Our past inaction and our current less than sufficient action toward preserving and cleaning up what we have threatens the economic existence of a large part of our wonderful state—as well as the health of many of its people.

I hope that the legislature through one of its most influential members, Jack Toeppe, will be moved by your generosity and concern to more actively and constructively fight the threat of pollution on all fronts.

Sincerely,
Lou Cramton

SOCIAL SECURITY

benefit checks covering payments for the month of March. A separate check in the amount of the benefit increase for the months of January and February will reach beneficiaries later in April, probably during the week of April 20.

Refiguring the benefit amounts of the 25 million men, women, and children now on the benefit rolls is a tremendous task, Commissioner Ball pointed out, and it must be done without disrupting the regular benefit payment cycle.

About one out of every eight Americans is now receiving a social security check each month, Commissioner Ball said. As of the end of December, these monthly payments totaled $2.2 billion and the monthly total will go up by $345 million to more than $2.5 billion as the 15 percent benefit increase becomes effective.

The average retirement benefit of $100 a month will rise to $116 per month; A couple 65 or older receiving the average couple's benefit of $170, will have their benefit increased to $196; The average benefit for a family made up of a disabled worker, wife and one or more children will go up from $237 to $273; And average payments for a widow and two or more children will rise from $234 to $292.

BE AWARE OF SOLICITATIONS

Businessmen should be especially aware of invoice-like solicitations which resemble Yellow Pages billing forms, H. H. Randall, commercial director for General Telephone, said today.

"Although the forms are actually a solicitation for a private directory listing, they appear to be a statement or bill," Randall said. "Businessmen frequently respond to these solicitations with a payment thinking it is a payment for Yellow Pages advertising."

Most forms used for this type of solicitation include a statement to the effect that payment need not be made unless the offer is accepted; however, the disclaimer is not readily apparent to the busy businessman.

Randall suggested that businessmen, caution bookkeepers, secretaries, or others charged with the responsibility for processing bills to be aware of the "fine print" before authorizing payment for directory bills.

The directory service solicited by the "look-alike" form usually cost between $65 and $100 and an inadvertent payment is often difficult to recover, he said.

"General Telephone Directory Company, which is located at Des Plaines, Ill., does not bill our customers directly," Randall said. "We include Yellow Pages advertising on our regular monthly billing to business telephone customers."

One clue that a pseudo "bill" may not be a "bill" at all can be the place of origin: many companies which mail "look-alike" billings are based in California.

Sheriff's Report

The Crawford County Sheriff's Department reports the arrests of:

Douglas Clark Brown, 17, Birmingham; James Donald O'Connor, 17, Birmingham and Patrick Lee Davis, 17, of Sumner, on charges of minors in possession.

The department policed seven snowmobile accidents plus answering numerous snowmobile complaints. They assisted with the Snowmobile Rally on Sunday.

Seven ambulance calls were handled by the department. Three accidents were policed and 17 summonses issued.

Two walkaways from Camp LaVictoire were apprehended by the department. 39 drivers licenses were issued, 12 messages delivered. In the past two months, 680 meals were served at the jail.

Meet Sheila Morley

Mrs. Sheila Morley, well-known for her frequent radio spots will be at the Roscommon County Building, January 20, 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Morley will speak on "Wraps and Packs for Food." Regulations and innovations in food packaging are becoming increasingly more important to the lady of the house. With increasing volumes of food being sold "prepared or packaged in some way, every consumer should be aware of his protections and new services made available by the packaging industry.

Mrs. Morley, a Michigan State University Consumers Marketing Agent from Saginaw, is well qualified to speak on this topic. Her audiences are always entertained and informed. Her visit is sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service for Crawford and Roscommon Counties.

BABSON'S 1970 FORECAST

Bonds and Preferred Stocks
As we enter 1970, prices of bonds and preferred stocks are well depressed, and yields are the most generous in over a century. Therefore, these two types of securities provide very attractive investments for those who are in need of a high current income, but the prospect of upward adjustment in market prices for bonds and preferred stocks as money rates decline clearly indicates that there is also the opportunity for capital appreciation.

Maximum Income — Where the highest possible yield is necessary (in the case of investors who are entirely dependent upon investment income) and for certain institutional accounts, there are many high-quality bonds and preferred stocks which can be purchased to tie down the generous yields now available.

Income Plus Appreciation — Many investors are not completely dependent upon current income. For these investors, bonds or preferreds which carry a relatively low coupon rate or dividend rate can provide both generous current yield plus capital appreciation potential.

Investors who are interested in a reasonable investment income plus some capital appreciation beyond the immediate future (the latter factor representing an inflation hedge) should not overlook good convertible bonds and preferreds. The stock market decline has pulled most convertible securities down to the point where their current yields are quite attractive. Those issues trading close to, or right at, their conversion value stand the best chance of moving upward in price when their respective common shares stage a rebound.

Bargain Counter for Common Stocks
The unimpaired market performance of 1969 hardly seems to be a source of inspiration for investors, particularly with business and corporate profit prospects uninspiring for the first half of 1970. The long experience of the Babson Organization, however, has shown time and again that the best profits can be garnered from bargain hunting forays when the stock market has been knocked down and the "buy high, sell higher" sophistries are quivering in their boots. "Mod" economics notwithstanding, there is no substitute for the hard-nosed investment philosophy of "buy low, sell high," as this approach carries the least downside risk and a maximum of upside potential.

Growth Areas — The research staff of Babson's Reports currently favors investments in such stock groups as life insurance, savings and loan, leisure time, cosmetics, electronic data processing software, pollution control, solid waste disposal, integrated circuits, and certain of the precious and primary metals (notably silver, platinum, and aluminum) for investors interested in longer range growth.

Oversold Issues for Rebound Potential — Investors who require some base of current income often find themselves shut off from the growth stocks. But there is nothing like a good market shakeout to open up capital gains opportunities for every investment objective. Over a short span of time, the downtrodden prosaic and more cyclical issues can provide just as encouraging profits as the growth issues offer. In this corner of the bargain counter, we of the Babson's Reports staff point to the values and recovery potential of such common stock groups as the oils, the natural gas producers, and the building materials and construction equipment issues. The "oversold" label can be tacked on to other groups, including the stocks of companies in the aircraft, rubber products, and the original-equipment auto parts field. And do not overlook the well trampled conglomerate stocks, and the long-suffering agricultural equipment shares.

FOR THE FAMILY MANAGER

ITEM: Putting a spatter finish on an antique piece of furniture is as easy as a lick of the wrist. It's just one of the many effects you can get with antiquing kits by varying the way in which you apply the toner. Use a stiff bristle brush—an old toothbrush will do. Dip the bristles of the brush into the paint. "Spring" the bristles with your finger to throw a fine spray of toner over the undercoating. Don't load the brush too heavily with the toner—you want spatters, not blotches.

ITEM: Study grocery ads before you go shopping. Prepare a shopping list and stick to it unless you are sure a substitution means a better buy. Follow this plan and you'll not give into impulse buying.

ITEM: Ground beef is economical because there is no waste. You get more meat per pound. You can also stretch ground beef with other foods such as rolled oats, rice, crushed cereals and bread crumbs. Add about a half cup of one of these to each pound of meat.
